Women Artists of Midcoast Maine	10/1/2017	8 am -5 pm	Gallery at 900, Building 5, 900 Broadway	free	For the entire month of October, during normal business hours, the Women Artists of Midcoast Maine exhibit will be open to the viewing public at no cost. Women Artists of Midcoast Maine is a group of women artists who have come together to support, encourage, educate, and promote each other as artists. Individually and collectively we celebrate the unique vision which ties us together as women expressing our world view thru our art making. We are makers, reflectors, creators, explorers, and most of all women who delight in sharing our world thru our art. The Gallery at 900 is home to St. Joseph Healthcare Internal Medicine at Building 5 of the 900 Broadway campus. Visitors are welcome to view the art exhibits during normal business hours, Monday-Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM. The Gallery at 900 is host to a rotating art exhibit as well as permanent and loaned collections.	https://www.stjoeshealing.org/support-our-mission/how-we-use-your-gift

Hamilton and American Truths	10/12/2017	1:00-2:00	UMA-Bangor, Lewiston Hall 119	free!	"Who lives, who dies, who tells your story?" And who determines whether your story is true? The Broadway musical, Hamilton, has taken American pop culture and American history to new levels. Combining a variety of musical styles, but relying primarily on hip hop traditions, Hamilton tells the story of Alexander Hamilton and the birth of our nation while also telling us a story about America today. Listen to the full, annotated soundtrack ahead of time and join some Hamilton nerds--Kati Corlew, Sarah Hentges, Jeff Sychterz, and Ben Treat--as they discuss the American truths that are presented through Hamilton and what this musical tells us about history, about how we tell stories, and about who we are as Americans.	https://www.facebook.com/WICCDworks/photos/gm.1606796749390492/1972792006273111/?type=3&theater

Film: I Know a Man ... Ashley Bryan	10/13/2017	8:00 pm	Gracie Theatre at Husson University	Free	A new documentary I Know a Man ... Ashley Bryan is said by some to be an antidote to the hatred, racism and division that our country is experiencing today. The film is about this 94-year-old creative wonder who skips and jumps in his heart like a child. Born in Harlem and raised in the Bronx, Ashley's talent was nurtured by artist Romare Bearden. Ashley was drafted out of Cooper Union into the segregated US army at age 19. He served in an all-Black battalion during World War II and preserved his humanity by drawing, stowing supplies in his gas mask. Ashley now lives on the remote Cranberry Islands, Maine, and has been using art his entire life to celebrate joy, mediate the darkness of war and racism, explore the mysteries of faith, and create loving community. He is a poet/illustrator of over 50 published children's books, and makes magical puppets and sea glass windows from found objects inspired by his African heritage. The film explores his world from the time his father "was given the mop and the broom", (a reference to the Gordon Parks famous photograph). He quotes Marian Anderson admonishing "to keep another down you have to hold them down, and therefore cannot ... soar to the potential within you." He spreads beauty through his linocut prints exhorting "Let My People Go". His life story and the art he makes from this wellspring of experience is an inspiration to people of all ages.	www.ashleybryanfilms.org
